

JOIN OUR CSA FOR 2009!

FAIL BETTER FARM SHARES! We are pleased to invite you to participate in our farm share, or Community Supported Agriculture (CSA), program. By pre-purchasing produce from us for the 2009 growing season, you can help our farm to succeed while you feed yourself and your family some of the freshest, most nutritious, locally grown, certified organic vegetables available. New this year, we're offering weekly bread shares and egg shares in addition to our popular vegetable shares.

TELL ME MORE: Every week, you'll get (depending on which shares you purchase) a bag of freshly harvested, certified organic vegetables, a box of fresh, certified organic eggs and/or a bag of freshly baked, sourdough bread. Shares will be distributed in custom printed, organic cotton tote bags which will be yours to keep at the end of the season. We will also write a weekly newsletter with information about the share, what's happening on the farm and a few recipes for each weeks share. You'll also be able to order all natural, pasture raised chicken and pork – all produced here on our farm! You'll even be invited to various on-farm events: cherry tomato picking, pizza parties, cider pressing, and more!

SO, WHAT'S IN A SHARE? During our 2008 season, shareholders received over 40 different kinds of vegetables. The contents of veggie shares vary week to week, but here are a couple of example shares from last year:

A full veggie share from July contained:

- 2 heads of Garlic
- 1 pound of Collard Greens
- 1 bunch of Scallions
- 1 pounds of Peas
- 1 bunch of fresh Thyme
- ½ pound of baby Zucchini
- 1 bunch of Beets

While a half veggie share from September contained:

- 1 bulb of Fennel
- 1 pound of Zucchini
- 1 pound of Cucumbers
- 1 bunch of Cilantro
- 1 pound of heirloom Tomatoes

Egg shares will contain organic eggs from our certified organic flock of Araucana laying hens. Araucanas are famous for laying eggs in pastel shades of blue, pink and green and pasture raised eggs are renowned for their deep orange yolk and wonderful flavor.

Bread shares will contain loaves of all natural sourdough breads baked fresh in our hand-made, wood-fired oven. The types of bread offered will include: "standard" sourdough, "seedy" multigrain, delicious whole wheat, raisin walnut, herbed olive bread and maybe some non-sourdough "French" type breads such a ciabatta and baguettes.

OK, SO WHAT'S THIS GOING TO COST?

Veggie shares come in two sizes: full shares are $400 and half shares are $200. The shares will stretch over a 5 month season: 20 weeks; from June through October.

Breads shares are also in two sizes: a full share is 2 loaves per week for $200 and half shares are one loaf per week for $100. Bread shares are also 20 weeks; June through October.

Egg shares are $50 for a full share of one dozen eggs per week and $25 for a half share of a ½ dozen eggs per week. Egg shares will stretch over a 10 week season.

Depending upon availability, all shares types may be extended into the winter months for an additional subscription fee.

There is also a $15 deposit for the tote bag in which shares will be distributed. This fee is waived for big spenders (see next page for details) and the bags are yours to keep at the end of the season.

A FEW MORE DETAILS: a farm share, or CSA, such as this carries with it certain benefits to both us, the farmers, and you, the shareholder. To name a few:

- Paid up front: by paying for your share before you receive it, you are freed from the hassle of remembering your checkbook or cash at a market while we are relieved of the stress of the early season "cash crunch" that other farmers must struggle with.
- Shared bounty: every year is great for some crops and not so good for others. Shareholders get to enjoy the bountiful crops while the farmer is relieved from worrying so much about crops that didn't do so well.
